SUR & PYSZ, Hedwig's

Two artists from different cultures invite you on a journey into the land of improvised music and music inspired by the landscapes of southern France and Morocco. In this unique project, Maciek Pysz joins forces with the French artist Davy Sur to create expansive, open and poetic music evoking the open spaces of Morocco: organic and raw, yet searching for introspection and "space".
The first musical contact of the artists was established in Monaco, in 2014. A year later, they met again, this time in the south of France. They spent several months in isolation, searching for new forms of interaction. The result of their meeting is a free, fluid sound, silence pierced by subtle noises and whispers. Their debut album "Space Jazz", released by Ozella Music in 2018 is captivating and gives a sense of a foretaste of something great.
